RECENT PROJECTS

SeedFund (Docker, Flask, Python, ReactJS, Hooks, HTML, CSS, SQLAlchemy, PostgreSQL, Heroku)

live | github

A crowdfunding site in the style of Kickstarter. A collaborative, four person team agile sprint project.

- Ensured responsive user interactions through utilizing a streamlined design based on a Flask/React architecture.
- Harnessed the power of ReactJS Hooks to reuse component's stateful logic with minimal requests to the server.
- Protected user account information through Flask's support for client side sessions (secure cookies), coupled with authentication routes on the frontend and password hashing on the backend.

ChowTown (MongoDB, Express, Node.js, React, Redux, HTML, CSS, SASS, Heroku, AWS)

live | github

Restaurant review and reservation site in the style of Opentable.

- Created robust and feature-rich experience by integrating an external restaurant API which can provide relevant content regardless of location.
- Solved large file storage concerns by utilizing an AWS S3 bucket to store user photos.

Spark (Docker, Flask, Python, React.js, Redux, Hooks, HTML5, CSS3, SQLAlchemy, Postgres, Pandas, Heroku)

live | github

A Magic the Gathering social platform to build, share, and discuss game decks

- Constructed a sophisticated relational database utilizing aggregate columns and association object tables.
- Applied Redux's unidirectional data flow with ReactJS for predictable app state and reliable DOM rendering.
- Enhanced user functionality by integrating feature targeted packages such as sqlalchemy-searchable and react-sortable-HOC.
